European Theatre Performance Practice, 1750–1900 Apr 18 2021 This volume contains key articles and chapters which represent both seminal and innovative scholarship on European theatre performance practice from 1750 to 1900. The selected topics focus on acting and performance, staging (including set design and lighting), and audiences, and are approached with a broad perspective as well as with in-depth, focussed analysis. The volume captures the rich, dynamic and variegated nature of European theatre throughout the late-eighteenth and nineteenth centuries and provides a carefully selected body of significant texts on this important period of theatre history.

Kills of the Father May 20 2021 “Kills of the Father” The Misadventures of Max Mason What would you do if someone you loved was kidnapped and held for a price? Could you change your philosophy about killing someone to save that person? Max Mason is use to people trying to kill him over the years, but when Admiral Cartwright’s Halloween night birthday party turns deadly, he must rely on others to save his life including a female ninja; there bent on killing him herself. Max and Agent Karen Tyler's 3rd adventure has them following a pair of dead assassins to the beautifully wooded state of North Carolina; where they find a disgraced Colonel with an agenda, and the billionaire mother & son; owners of a high-profile telecommunications company working together to blackmail the world’s leaders through their “new app” for cell phones, about to go online. Nathaniel & Evelyn Covington’s unknowing mistake was employing Max’s brilliant “pacifist” son Jacob, and his computer skills; to unwittingly oversee their evil project. After the murder of a close friend Jake goes on the run with a flash drive that can ruin the Covington’s entire plan. Hoping to keep his family one step ahead of the murderous Colonel’s mercenary army he tries to lead them away eventually getting captured; not knowing his retired Navy SEAL father, and his highly-trained girlfriend have arrived in town to confront the Covington’s about something completely different. Jake is captured, tortured, and escapes to find out that the Colonel has kidnapped his five year old son Parker; willing to exchange him for the flash drive he no longer has. Meanwhile, matriarch Evelyn Covington has other ideas for the young boy now in their possession. Enlisting the help of Jake’s police officer wife Linda; Max & Tyler must avoid the Colonel’s trained mercenaries, a vengeful Japanese business mogul, and the Covington’s murderous electronic toys; in order to find Jake and rescue their little boy...Max’s grandson. Max, Tyler, and Linda must throw away their badges and reunite with Jake along with some unexpected, and surprising help to get Parker back. They must destroy the satellite signal, rescue the child, and get out alive; because sometimes the “Kills of the Father” are necessary to save a family.

A History of the Liberal Party since 1900 Mar 06 2020 Once teetering on the brink of oblivion, the British Liberal Party has again re-established itself as a major force in national and local politics. David Dutton's approachable study offers new insights into the waning, near death and ultimate recovery of the Liberal Party from 1900 to the present day. Discussions of politics, philosophy and performance are all skilfully interwoven as Dutton demonstrates how the party has become, once more, a formidable player on the political stage. The second edition of this established text offers: - An entirely new chapter on the coalition government - A chronology of key events - Numerous suggestions for further reading This lively survey of British Liberalism from the era of Campbell-Bannerman to that of Nick Clegg reviews existing literature while offering its own distinctive perspective on one of the most compelling of political dramas.
